

Are you serious... ...Surf Punx sponsor 'Goat Boater!'

We were served up a big dilemma the other day at Surf Punx, whether to sponsor Alex Read (top Goat Boater!)?

The fact that he is seeing the founders niece had quite an impact on the decision.

Alex also Surfs, but just happens to really excel in Surf Kayak and in general is a really good all round waterman. His love for the ocean and just being in it is an inspiration to us all.

Like most of you i'm sure we have all been taken out by a Goat Boater in your Surf history, which adds to the conflict between Goaters, Bin Lid Riders and Surfers. At the end of the day we all have one common ground and that is our love for and being in the ocean!

I've just returned from spending a week Surfing with Alex around the Bude area and he really is a genuinely good guy.

We wish Alex all the best at the 'World Championships' in Mundaka, Spain in October.
